

DEAR Family

Dec 12 2011

So right now my companions are forcing me to prepare myself for a picture for a Christmas card. BLATT! But what ever. So this week has been good and not all @ the same time. We've worked so hard, but do not have the fruits of ~~our~~ ^{our} labors. Sis Pack thinks that I'm being prepared for something better later. I hope later comes sooner. Regardless that I'm having fun. Yesterday we went to the Stake Christmas concert. It was so good. I loved it! I think one of my new favorite songs is "Oh come oh come Emmanuel." So good. And our investigator Sarah came. She's awesome and is getting baptized and married! How cool is that! I'm gonna send some awesome pics with her today in email. You're gonna just laugh. Oh! I got your dear elder package. I loved it. It was an awesome surprise. I have my own X-mas tree. I got some of my favorite candy. Plus beef jerky. Beef jerky is a big deal out here. That was a true surprise & present. And those cookies are sugar death! I was only able to eat half of one. I had to share them cause they were so rich! But very good. So thank you so much! So I will probably send in an email the craziness of this week. But it has been full of service and food. I'm so sick of food. I'm getting fat. I can't handle it. it's awful. If I knew I was going to get so fat I wouldn't have come. ^{JK} So I got to hear something cool about the atonement. We have been reading a book called "The continuous atonement" by Brad Wilcox. If you can find this book you should buy it. It is so good and I say there was an awesome quote by Chieko N. Okazaki, "Christ is not waiting for us to be perfect. Perfect people don't need a savior. He came to save His people in their imperfections. He is the Lord of the living and the living. make mistakes. He's not embarrassed" by us, angry @ us, or shocked. He wants us in our brokenness, in our unhappiness, in our guilt and grief." How amazing is that?! I loved it so much! If theres anything I'm learning out here, its every thing about the Atonement & repentance. Its so cool that we have the ability to do the process of repentance and use the atonement. Anyways that was my highlight for things I've learned this week. Have you all been studying PNC? you better have or I'm gonna be upset. What about ~~the~~ your mormon.org profiles I look for you but can't find you. Hop on it! Anyways like is good. Tell every one hello! Oh please tell the Hansen Family "THANK YOU!" for the gift & letter. And that I really appreciate every letter. They send. Including the pictures. ☺ Well I got to run! Love you all will talk to you on email!

Dear Deem,

What is up?

PS: Since I didn't really send much for email I will write a bit more. So this week we had some craziness. We have an old woman in our ward named Sister Stone. She's a new Yorker ~~who~~ who is 91 yrs old and was baptized aboutish 2 yrs ago. So she has some things she pretty set in her ways. So we went to help her out by cleaning her trailer. I think I mentioned this some where. But because we don't speak old lady. She constantly cussed us out and physically dragged us around ~~the~~ her trailers. She had 3 crazy cats too.

She kept saying if she had 1 of them run away she ~~she~~ would DIE! ☺ She's a hoot. I hope you get to meet her in a yr or so.

well it sounds like things are grimm in k-town.
I hope it gets happy soon for christmas. I'm very glad that every thing is ok and everyone is still alive. you are always in our prayers here. especially mine. So don't worry about christmas presents or anything. I'm pretty taken care of out
